

Martha Jeffery (nee Gotts) qualified from Manchester Metropolitan University in 2008. She previously worked in the community clinic, mainstream schools and children's centre teams in Lambeth, working with clients ranging from pre-school to secondary age. While in Lambeth, she developed an interest in disorders of fluency, and became membership secretary of the South East and London Stammering Special Interest Group in September 2011. She joined the Michael Palin Centre in 2013.